MACHINE BOILER MAKERS

A NEW NATIONAL UNION ORGANIZED IN THIS CITY.

The Headquarters Will Be Established in Indianapolis-New Associations.

The Machine Boiler Makers of America is the name of a labor union that filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state yesterday. The articles provide for the paying of benefits to members sick or in distress and for the chartering a little damage done down town. The large of subordinate unions. The officers and directors are: President, John Flaskamp; first vice president, William S. Love; second vice president, Jesse Heizer; third vice president, Charles Spahn; secretary, Marshall Blacker; Edward Stewart, Charles O. Mann, Charles Bunnell and William Mor-

The association is a labor organization and its purpose is to take in all machine botler makers employed in America. The organization does not conflict with the Brotherhood of Boiler Makers and Iron Shipbuilders, as the members of the new union are men who work with machines only and are not practical boiler makers or skilled laborers. The organization as i now stands has a membership of eightyfive machine boiler makers, all of whom are employed at the Atlas engine works. There are several hundred in the city who will likely join. The headquarters of the national organization will be in this city The union was organized about three months ago when the Machinists' Union began the agitation of the nine-hour day. They were granted an advance in wages from 15 to 20 cents a day when the Atlas engine works signed the machinists' agree ment. The new union has no grievances and the movement is simply the launching of another labor organization, taking in and Frederick R. Taylor. The Grand Lodge of Indiana of the Improved Order of Knights of Pythias filed articles yesterday, but gave no capital stock, fraternal orders being exempt from this requirement. The officers are: Past grand commander, Jacob L. Bieler, Indianapolis; grand commander, John Loth, Muncie; vice grand commander, E. M. MONUMENT REGENTS.

Board Will Meet To-Morrow Morning to Organize.

The board of monument regents, in which there have been several changes recently, will meet to-morrow morning in its office third floor of the Statehouse to reorganize so that its business may be transacted in proper form. The death of President Kneffer caused a temporary suspension of the approving of bills and signing of vouchers. The report is in circulation, although without any real foundation, that Col. I. N. Walker, Governor Durbin's latest appointee on the board, will be elected president at to-morrow's meeting. The board elects its own president, and none of the members has indicated his preference as yet. Maj. G. V Menzies, of Mount Vernon, will answer the "roll call" to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock (New York time) from Flushing, L. I. He will also record his vote for president of the board of regents over the long-distance telephone. Benjamin Starr, of Richmond, appointed recently to succeed Col. George W. Parker on the board, has said he will be present at the meeting.

TWO-STORY HOUSE ON EAST WASH-INGTON STREET BLOWN DOWN.

Murphy & Grafty's Shirt Factory Struck by Lightning-Havoc Played Among Big Trees.

The thunderstorm which swept over a part of Indianapolis yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock was accompanied by a terrific wind, which blew forty-three miles an hour at the weather office in the Majestic building and was more severe in the eastern part of the city. The lightning also played some queer freaks, and the hall which accompanied the cloudburst of rain caused pedestrians to seek shelter.

The storm blew up about 3:45, and the first serious warning was a vivid flash of lightning followed by a peal of thunder heard all over the city. The lightning struck Murphy & Graffty's shirt factory, on South Pennsylvania street, near South street, and started a small fire. An alarm of fire was sounded, and by the time the different companies were answering the alarm the rain and hall were coming down in torrents, so that it was impossible to pany on East Maryland street answered the alarm, and started east on Maryland street to Pennsylvania and south toward the fire. The rain and hail frightened the horse and it swerved as the wagon passed Chesapeake street and tried to run into that narrow street.

The sudden turn threw the firemen from pavement, but not one of them was seriously injured The wagon, however, was so badly demolished that it had to be sent ern part of the city, where the wind did much damage. A two-story frame building in course of construction between Keystone and Tacoma avenues, on the south side of Washington street, was completely demolished. The framework of the house storm blew up. The wind was so strong against a tree near by. The property is owned by Captain Clinton and the contractor is M. M. Cotton

Other evidences of the strong wind were seen in the eastern part of the city, trees being blown down and uprooted in the Deaf and Dumb Institute grounds and in many yards in that part of town. Trees were blown across the street on Shelby and Harrison streets. Bricks from many chimneys were carried several feet and houses rocked to and fro during the worst of the storm. Trees were blown down in General Knefler's yard. The rain fell in torrents for about forty minutes, but the terrific wind blew only about half that time. There was awning in front of Ward's loan office, on East Market street, was torn loose and blown through the heavy plate glass win-

One of the peculiar things about the storm was that it was not felt in the northern part of the city, and but little rain fell north of Twentieth street.

ACTION OF HIGH COURTS.

Decision That Will Affect Insolvent Corporations-Care of a Pauper.

A "mailed hand" was laid yesterday by the Appellate Court of Indiana on the practice of directors of insolvent corporations preferring themselves over outside creditors by issuing trust deeds to secure an- for the evening to keep their aspirations tecedent debts evidenced by notes executed individually, and also to secure a debt due to one of their number. The decision was in the case of the Nappanee Canning Company against Reld, Murdock & Co., of Chicago. The latter firm held a claim itself "frozen out" by such a deed of trust. Judge Robinson, who wrote the opinion that prevailed, argued that this could not be done. Judge Henley penned a dissentmen not eligible to membership in other ing opinion, in which he said the majority opinion "tiew in the face" of the rule laid down by the Supreme Court of this State The judgment recovered by Mrs. Tillie Myers against Scofield, Schurmer & Teagle in the Marion Superior Court for the accidental killing of her husband by a runaway team belonging to the firm, was sustained yesterday by the Appellate Court, which held that Mrs. Myers's husband was not bound to look behind him for the purpose of seeing and avoiding other teams and wagons that might be approaching from that direction. Myers was jogging along in his buggy when a runaway team attached to an oil wagon belonging to the defendant firm dashed into him and caused his death. The case of the State on the relation of William F. Swain against William K. Windle, in which the Supreme Court overruled a petition for rehearing yesterday, is said to be similar to the suits filed against ex-Treasurers Holt and Schmidt in this county recently by R. F. Stuart. In the Windle case the higher court held that a taxpayer could institute a suit to recover money paid by the county to its treasurer as interest on pretended loans which brought to the treasury no additional money. Th "loans" in question were made from one fund to another in the county treasury. The sheriff of Randolph county grew tired of caring for Roll Joseph, a pauper, who was acquitted of burglary on the ground of insanity, and took him to the Ohio line, turning him loose to become a charge on the Darke County Infirmary The Ohio authorities sought by mandate to compel the Indiana officer to take Joseph back, but the Supreme Court held yesterday that a mandamus would not lie in such case, the proper method being to sue the sheriff of the Indiana county for the paupers' support in the Ohio County Inurmary. The judge that wrote the opinion suggested facetiously that the sheriff of Darke county, Ohio, might have retaliated on the sheriff of Randolph county, by "dumping" the pauper back into Indiana "between days."
